Understanding Background Checks

TalentReef Tip:

Requesting a background check is not the same as submitting one. For a background check to go through to the provider, it must be submitted.

General Process of Background Checks

Utilizing Background Checks is a great way to screen candidates ensuring that you are hiring applicants that are a good fit for your company.

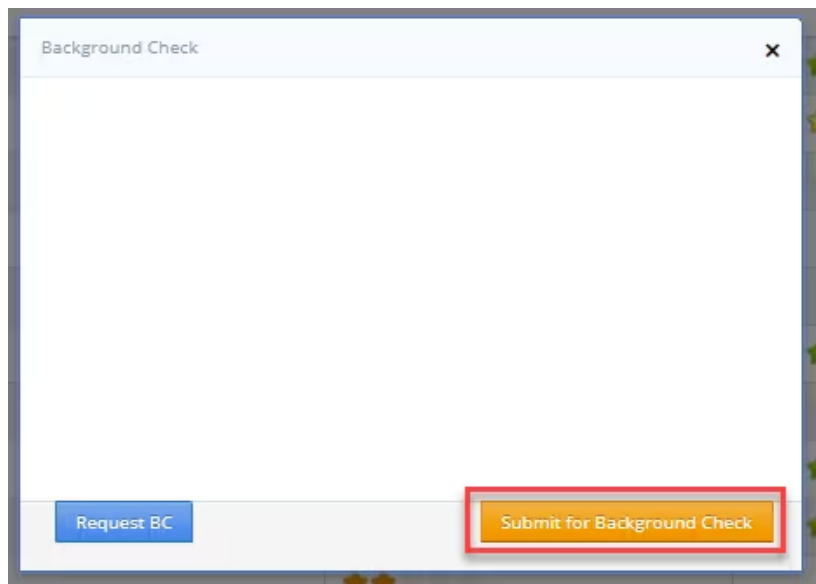

Requesting a Background Check

- To send a candidate through a Background Check, you will first need to request a Background Check in the "Things You Can Do menu" within the Source module.
 - NOTE: Depending on the workflow of your company, you may need to change the applicant status to "Offer" and send the offer letter before requesting a BGC.

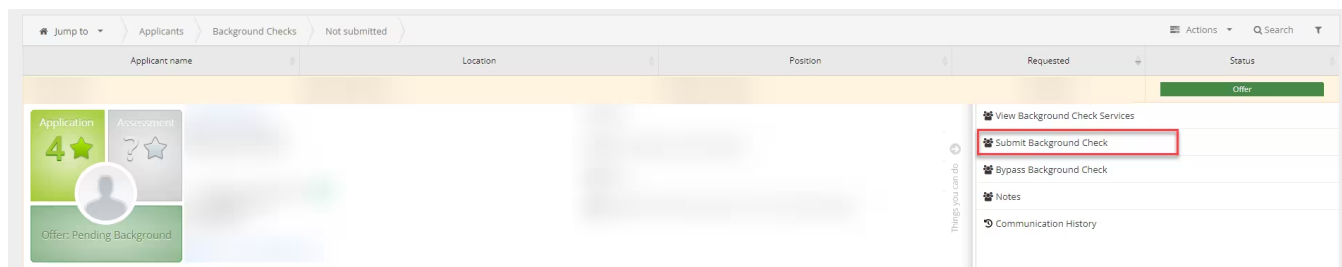

Submitting a Background Check

- After requesting the Background Check, you will be prompted to "Submit for Background Check".
 - When submitting the Background Check, the candidate will need to sign off on the Disclosure & Authorization form or Pending Link email. If the applicant did not receive this email, they should look in their Promotion or Junk/Spam folder. If their still having difficulties, please reach out to your BGC vendor.
 - Note: The "Submit Background Check" user permission is needed to complete this action. If you do not have this permission, your administrator will need to submit the BGC.

- You can also submit a Background Check from the "Not Submitted" section in the Background Checks Module of the "Jump to" menu.

- Confirm the applicant details and ensure that all required fields marked with a red dot are completed.
- Click "Save and Next Step" you will then be prompted to select a Background Check package and submit.

Reviewing Background Checks

Within the Background Check Module, you can view results, check on the status, review submission and completion dates and more.

Background Check Result/Report

- To view the Background Check result, go to the "Jump to" > "Background Checks" > "Completed".
- Under the "R" column, one of the three symbols will appear:
 - Red X: Indicates that there is an area of concern and this applicant was not cleared for work. This applicant should be moved to the released status and cannot be hired at this time.
 - Green Check Mark: The background cleared with no areas of concern. This candidate can be moved to "Hired".
 - Yellow Caution Sign: There is a potential area of concern. Someone with appropriate user permissions (View and Manage Background Check Results) must review the background check results and make a determination on whether the background check is satisfactory. Once reviewed, the yellow caution will update to either a Green Check Mark or a Red X.

Reviewing/Clearing a Flagged Background Check

- If a Background Check contains an area of concern marked by a Yellow Caution Sign, the flagged section must be reviewed by someone with correct user permissions before the individual can be hired.
- To review a flagged Background Check, click on the applicant's name and select "View Background Check Report". This will open the Background Check results to review.

Troubleshooting/Frequently Asked Questions

When to Reach Out to the Background Check Provider

- Background Checks typically can take up to 10 days. If it has been past 10 days, we recommend reaching out to your provider to check on the status.
- If an applicant didn't receive an email to sign the Disclosure and Authorization form, please have them look for the Pending Link email in their Promotion or Junk/Spam folder. If it's still not there, reach out to the BGC vendor and ask about the Disclosure & Authorization form or Pending Link email.

When to Reach Out to TalentReef

- If you are not currently set up, please submit a "Configuration Change Request" for a "Third Party Configuration". Click here (<https://success.miratech.com/Assurehire>) to submit a request.
